Fund Manager Commentary

Government bonds were marked lower throughout January on improving economic conditions. Survey data at the turn of the year guided towards better prospects for the year ahead, with the IMF upgrading its 2018 global growth forecasts. Commentary suggesting that the ECB was on the verge of altering its language regarding ongoing asset purchases, along with the small uptick in UK wage inflation data, also left market participants with a hawkish policy bias. Gilt yields rose further as a result. In the US, Treasury market weakness was seen to originate from higher inflation expectations. The 10-year gilt yield rose from the low of 1.19% to the high of 1.51%. Credit spreads declined yet again over the period. The fund's 0.31% total return outperformed both its peer average (0.01%) and its FT All Stock Gilt benchmark (-2.00%). This was largely a consequence of positive stock selection impacts from holdings in Financials, Utilities and Consumer Non-Cyclical bonds, whose spreads tightened considerably. Fund inflows were utilised by adding to Liverpool Victoria 6.5% 2043 (2023 call), Marks & Spencer 6.125% 2021 and UK Treasury 1.75% 2019. The fund continues to seek opportunities to invest in quality corporate debt at attractive yields.

*Past 12 months' distributions as a % of midshare price, excluding preliminary charge.
 The Distribution Yield* reflects the amounts that may be expected to be distributed over the next 12 months as a percentage of the mid-market unit price of the fund. The Underlying Yield reflects the annualised income net of expenses of the fund (calculated in accordance with relevant accounting standards) as a percentage of the midmarket unit price of the fund. Both Yields are based on a snapshot of the portfolio on that day. The yields do not include any preliminary charge and investors may be subject to tax on distributions. The Distribution Yield is higher than the Underlying Yield because the fund's expenses are charged to capital. This has the effect of increasing the distributions for the year and constraining the fund's capital performance to an equivalent extent.
 Yield figures are as at 31/01/2018. AMC† is only charged to capital for both share classes of the EdenTree Higher Income and Amity Sterling Bond Fund as well as both Charity Funds. Past performance should not be seen as a guide to future performance. The value of an investment and the income from it can fall as well as rise as a result of market and currency fluctuations, you may not get back the amount originally invested. This factsheet should not be interpreted as financial advice. If you are unsure which investment is most suited for you, the advice of a qualified financial adviser should be sought.
